DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “drive belt” (claim 3), the “optical sensors” (claim 5), the “joystick arrangement” (claim 6), and the “slide rails” (claim 8) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 6 it is not understood what “a joystick arrangement” is referring to. No joystick is shown or described in the specification.

In claim 7 the term “preferably” renders the claim indefinite as it is unclear if the structure after the word “preferably” is being claimed or not.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. The use of the phrase “adapted” has been noted in the claims. It has been held that the recitation that an element is “adapted” is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138 (CCPA 1946).

6. Claims 1-2, 4, 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fujiwara et al. 5,746,282.

Fujiwara et al. discloses a transport device comprising:

a driving part 1 with at least one driving means 6a for moving said driving part in a number of directions on a surface, said driving means including at least one wheel 2b, a carrying part 4 arranged above said driving part and adapted to carry a load, characterized in that wherein said driving part and said carrying part are movable in relation to one another in a number of directions essentially parallel to said surface, said transport device comprising a measuring means 5a,5b for measuring a positional difference between said driving part and said carrying part,

and said driving means being adapted to drive in directions which depend on said positional difference between said driving part and said carrying part;

in which said measuring means comprises strain gauges;

in which the driving means drives at a speed which is essentially proportional to said positional difference.

7. Claims 1-2, 4, 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kratzenberg 6,276,471.

Kratzenberg discloses a transport device comprising:

a driving part 1 with at least one driving means 1 for moving said driving part in a number of directions on a surface, said driving means including at least one wheel 4, a carrying part 18 arranged above said driving part and adapted to carry a load, characterized in that wherein said driving part and said carrying part are movable in relation to one another in a number of directions essentially parallel to said surface, said transport device comprising a measuring means 13 for measuring a positional difference between said driving part and said carrying part,

Art Unit: 3611

and said driving means being adapted to drive in directions which depend on said positional difference between said driving part and said carrying part;

in which said measuring means comprises strain gauges;

in which the driving means drives at a speed which is essentially proportional to said positional difference.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claim 7 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. Claims 3, 5, 8 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims, and if no new matter were presented.

10. Claim 10 would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims, and if the “adapted” language were removed.
